Toward Tolerance:	West Alabama
Embracing Diversity, Strengthening the Ummah
Diversity of thought and practice are strengths of our community. Islam is a religion committed to pluralism, tolerance, and diversity of views. We must move beyond the ethnic, cultural, and ideological barriers preventing our American Muslim community from a brighter tomorrow. How can we, as Muslim students, help our community find middle ground by embracing our diverse backgrounds?
“O mankind! Reverence your Guardian-Lord, who created you from a single person, created, of like nature, His mate, and from them twain scattered (like seeds) countless men and women; — reverence Allah, through whom ye demand your mutual (rights), and (reverence) the wombs (That bore you): for Allah ever watches over you.” (4:1)
SPEAKERS: Rodwaan Saleh, Iesa Galloway
MYNA 2F
Making your Hours Count:	Chevy Chase
A Reward in the Dunya and Akhirah
We have all heard the cliché lecture about intentions, but how much of it have you really absorbed? It is human nature to mold our actions to impress others and covet positions of power. So when doing good things, it’s easy to get carried away by praise and become focused solely on recognition. If we find our focus straying from volunteering solely for the sake of our Creator, how can we purify our intentions? Being focused on volunteering for the sake of Allah may be difficult, but the rewards are twofold: benefits in this life and the next.
SPEAKERS: Mohamed El-Moctar El-Shinqiti, Ibrahim Dremali

9:00 – 10:30 PM	PLENARY SESSION 3A Serving the Community: From Theory to Practice All too often, community service is overlooked as a “volunteer” activity, instead of a core central doctrine of the Islamic message, as understood by our beloved Prophet (sall Allahu alayhi wasallam) and his followers. In the spirit of serving the community, this session will explore the ways in which the Muslim organizations (masajid, schools, political and civic organizations, etc.) can put together programs and resources for empowerment of the community at local, regional and national level in light of the examples set forth by our beloved Prophet SAW. SPEAKERS: Ubaid Qazi, Muneer Fareed, Maha Elgenaidi, Abdalla Idris Ali MODERATOR: Iesa Galloway	Galleria 1,2
	MSA 3B Conflict Resolution (with Effective Communication) Disagreements and differences are an inevitable part of any dynamic organization. With the diverse and varied backgrounds, hopes and expectations of MSA members, disagreements can be challenging and can escalate into conflict. This workshop will introduce conflict resolution techniques that help you see conflict as an opportunity for growth and for creating win-win situations. The workshop is highly interactive and will require audience participation. This session will be conducted by COMPASS, the MSA National Training Program. Tackling Economic Development Issues with Spiritual Conviction

Sage

As the Dot Com Era turned into the Dot-Downturn Era, many analysts were asking about the effectiveness of starting businesses from scratch. However, Islam has seen a rich tradition of business-minded Muslims from its inception (after all, the Prophet sall Allahu alayhi wasallam was a merchant). This session will explore the considerations that Muslims should have when starting their own business enterprise in an ever-changing techno-centric society.

MSA 6 E

Transcending Differences, Celebrating Diversity

West Alabama

One of the greatest achievements during the life of the Prophet (PBUH) was the establishment of a single unified Muslim community. As American Muslims representing ethnic backgrounds from every corner of the globe, we must learn from trials of the early Muslims in how they were able to transcend beyond family, clan, tribal, and ethnic boundaries for the sake of God. How can we turn the diversity within our communities into a strength we can use to benefit our communities and ourselves?

"O mankind! We created you from a single (pair) of a male and a female, and made you into nations and tribes, that ye may know each other (not that ye may despise (each other)). Verily the most honoured of you in the sight of Allah is (he who is) the most righteous of you. And Allah has full knowledge and is well acquainted (with all things)." (49:13)

Footprints in the Sand: Learning from Our Prophet

Chevy Chase

He couldn't fly. He didn't have super strength. He didn't even have his own TV show. With only Allah's help, the Prophet (saw) was able to become the greatest leader of all time. He handled problems with care, he guided his followers with love, and faced opposition with firmness. He led his followers from oppression to glory while earning their love and trust. It was his ability to deal with any type of challenge gracefully that made him such a remarkable leader. In this session, we will learn how we can strive for righteousness, endure struggle, and serve our faith from his example.

The Contemporary View and Role of Muslim Women in the Mosque and Islamic Center

Bellaire & Post Oak

Our faith is of utmost importance, but how does one effectively balance the often competing roles that Islam encourages us to have, from being a devoted servant of Allah, to a caring and involved parent or family member, and a contributing and engaged member of the community? Moreover, while the participation of women, specifically, at all levels is vital to a healthy community, this need is often not realized due to a woman’s greater family responsibilities, restricted views of women’s participation and other factors. Indeed, the Qur’anic imperative and Prophetic example provides us with guiding principals and injunctions, but it is often practical experience that helps brings into practice.

Strengthening Our Marriages

Tangle Wood

Due to hectic lifestyles, it is all-too-often that spouses go days, and perhaps weeks, with no serious conversation taking place between them. Unfortunately, as a result, nearly 1/3 of Muslim marriages fail in the West. How can Muslim couples strengthen the most important bond of all — the bond between themselves — to solidify the foundations for healthy, productive families? This session will explore some of the practical steps that Muslims can take to ensure healthy, long-lasting marriages.
